

JOE MASI

Joe Masi knows the challenges communities face. He has a track record of overcoming them and insight required to take advantage of new opportunities.

Drawing on a wealth of experience as the former Executive Director of the Association of Manitoba Municipalities for close to 20 years, he saw first-hand what makes successful municipalities. Joe wants to bring this experience to his own community of Portage la Prairie.

Joe was the former Chair of the Portage Credit Union and under his leadership was instrumental in the growth of the Portage Credit Union, construction of the new building and securing the naming rights for the current Stride Place recreation center.

Joe is currently the Chair of the Portage and District Library and Co Chair of the Provincial Rural Economic Development Corporation.

He is committed to continued investment in local infrastructure, including roads, clean water and recreational facilities as well as working on a community strategy to make Portage a safer and welcoming community for all the residents and businesses wanting to settle in the City of Portage.

Joe and his wife, Joyce Dalmyn, have been residents of Portage for close to 25 years. Joe believes Portage has been a great place to call home and it is time to give back to the community by serving on City Council and help guide Portage into a more prosperous future.
